

New journalistic competition on COP 26, December 2021

Dear all,

On the occasion of the end of the year, the Africa 21 team is pleased to announce the organisation of a journalistic competition on the theme of :

CoP 26 in your country.

You can submit any journalistic content (press article, radio or video report) on either:

- The status of voluntary national climate plans in your country, your country's climate report card;
- Or any national projects on climate risk mitigation, adaptation or prevention at the national level that were highlighted at or during COP 26;
- See also the work of your country's or the African continent's negotiators at COP 26;
- Or the monitoring of international negotiations and their outcomes.

The proposed work must have been published in an African or international media accessible in Africa during the period from 1 October to the end of December 2021.

Prizes awarded :

- 1st place: 700 CHF
- 2nd place: CHF 500
- 3rd place: 300 CHF

To participate, please send us your work before 18 December to journalist@africa21.org

In pdf format and/or by providing us with the internet link for publication. Works are allowed in French and English. Works in Arabic are welcome provided that a translation in Word format accompanies them.

I look forward to reading, listening and watching you,

The Africa 21 team.
